However, there are certain risk factors where the financial impact is not quantifiable and, therefore, cannot be disclosed in such risk factors. You should consult your tax, financial and legal advisors about the particular consequences to you of an investment in this Issue.

This Letter of Offer also contains forward-looking statements that involve risks and uncertainties. Our results could differ materially from such forward-looking statements as a result of certain factors, including the considerations described below and elsewhere in this Letter of Offer. Any potential investor in, and purchaser of, the Equity Shares should pay particular attention to the fact that our Company is an Indian company and is subject to a legal and regulatory environment which, in some respects, may be different from that which prevails in other countries.

RISKS RELATING TO THE ISSUE AND OBJECTS OF THE ISSUE & RISKS MATERIAL TO THE ISSUER AND ITS BUSINESS:

INTERNAL RISK FACTORS

- 1. Estimates on reserves, resources and production profile data are based upon certain assumptions or estimates basis on some survey and simulation and actual outcome may be less than the initial estimates.

In the oil and gas industry, estimates of economically recoverable reserves, resources, and production profiles are often based on a range of assumptions and models, which can include geological surveys, seismic data, drilling results, and other forms of simulation. These estimates are typically classified into categories such as proved reserves, probable reserves, and possible reserves, depending on the level of certainty and the risk associated with each. The subsurface is difficult to fully understand, and the distribution of hydrocarbons can vary significantly from one reservoir to another. Even with advanced technologies, it is challenging to predict the exact size, shape, and productivity of an oil or gas field. Estimates are often based on a limited amount of data, which may come from drilling initial wells, seismic surveys, or other indirect methods. These data can be incomplete, imprecise, or may not capture all the complexity of the reservoir. We rely on assumptions and estimates for data on Quantity and Quality of gas output, production costs, operating costs, amount and timing of additional exploration and future development expenditure and future natural gas sale prices . There may be adverse effect on financial and operational performance if the estimates does not match actual performance.

2. Non-subscription due to promoter non-participation:

As per SEBI regulations and in order to achieve the minimum public shareholding requirement, the promoters of the Company are not permitted to subscribe to their entitlement in this Rights Issue. This regulatory restriction may be perceived negatively by investors, as promoter participation is often considered a signal of confidence in the Company's prospects. Consequently, investor sentiment may be adversely affected, potentially resulting in under-subscription.

3. Risk of MPS compliance failure if issue under-subscribed:

Since promoters cannot participate, the subscription levels will depend entirely on public shareholders and other eligible investors. If adequate participation is not achieved, the Company may face a shortfall in the funds intended to be raised, which could impact its ability to meet the stated objectives of the issue.

Failure to achieve the minimum subscription threshold due to promoter non-participation may result in cancellation, modification, or delay of the issue. This could further affect the Company's ability to comply with SEBI's requirements and meet its financing needs. In this regards the stock Exchanges may levy fine on the Company for MPS non-compliance as per SEBI circular.

4. Our business requires heavy Capex and long gestation period for completion of the projects

Our business model involves significant capital expenditure (Capex) and long gestation periods for project completion. The nature of our industry demands substantial upfront investment in infrastructure, technology, and resources to build the necessary foundation for success. Due to the complexity and scale of our projects, they require extended timelines to execute and deliver results. This long gestation period is a crucial aspect of our operations, as it allows for thorough planning, design, regulatory approvals, and careful implementation, ensuring the long-term sustainability and profitability of our ventures. Consequently, while the upfront investment and time required may be substantial, the returns are expected to materialize over a longer horizon, aligning with the strategic vision and growth trajectory of the company.

5. A substantial portion of the Issue Proceeds is proposed to be utilised towards repayment of unsecured loan availed from Deep Industries Limited, a Group Company in which certain Promoters/Common Promoters are interested. This may give rise to perceived or actual conflict of interest concerns.

As on the date of this Letter of Offer, the Company has outstanding borrowings from, inter alia, Deep Industries Limited, which is a listed entity and forms part of the Promoter Group, wherein certain Promoters/Common Promoters of our Company are also promoters/directors.

The Company proposes to utilise a significant portion of the Net Issue Proceeds towards repayment or prepayment of the loan availed from Deep Industries Limited. The said loan constitutes a substantial portion of the total outstanding unsecured borrowings of the Company and carries a higher rate of interest compared to certain other borrowings.

While the Board of Directors has approved such utilisation after evaluating the commercial rationale, including reduction in finance costs, deleveraging of the balance sheet and improvement in financial ratios, investors should note the following risks:

Related Party Consideration: Since Deep Industries Limited is a Group Company with common promoter involvement, the proposed repayment may be perceived as preferential treatment to a related party lender.

The Audit Committee and Board of Directors have reviewed the terms of the borrowing and confirmed that the loan was availed on commercial terms and that the proposed repayment is in the best interest of the Company and its shareholders. Necessary disclosures in respect of related party transactions have been made in the financial statements and this Letter of Offer in accordance with applicable provisions of the Companies Act, 2013, SEBI LODR Regulations and SEBI ICDR Regulations.

6. Our operational assets are leased or are on rental, which may adversely affect our operations.

Leasing or renting operational assets in the oil and gas industry can introduce several risks that may adversely affect operations. When assets are leased, the operator depends on the performance and reliability of the leasing company. If the leasing company faces financial difficulties, legal issues, or operational disruptions, it could impact the availability or quality of the leased assets. Further, Leased assets may not always be available when needed. If the leasing company has limited availability of critical equipment or if there are delays in the delivery of leased assets, this can disrupt operations. Further, the terms and conditions of rental agreements might not always be favourable, and there could be price escalations or changes in lease terms that increase the financial burden on the operator. Since the company does not own the assets, it does not benefit from asset appreciation or depreciation in its balance sheet. The company is essentially paying for the use of the assets without accumulating any equity.

7. Extraction and production of natural gas is highly risky activity involving significant uncertainties and may adversely affect company's operations and financial position.

Natural gas reservoirs are not always as predictable as initially expected. The size, pressure, and permeability of a gas field can vary significantly, and this uncertainty can lead to lower-than-anticipated production or premature depletion of reserves. The process of exploring for natural gas involves significant risks, as seismic surveys and drilling operations may not always yield the expected reserves. Exploration in unproven areas or challenging environments (e.g., offshore or deep shale) can lead to dry wells or unproductive fields. The process of drilling wells and extracting natural gas is technically demanding. Problems like equipment failure, blowouts, or well integrity issues can lead to operational delays, increased costs, or accidents. Advanced techniques such as hydraulic fracturing (fracking) or deepwater drilling add further complexity and risk. A productive well may become uneconomic if pernicious substances are encountered which impair or prevent the production of natural gas from the well. The company may encounter a situation whereby even productive wells do not produce sufficient commercial quantities. Over time, natural gas production from a field typically declines. If the initial production rate is overestimated, the company may face lower-than-expected cash flows. Similarly, if unforeseen geological or technical challenges arise, production may decline faster than planned. Natural gas prices can fluctuate significantly due to global supply-demand dynamics, geopolitical tensions, weather patterns, and broader economic conditions. Price volatility makes it difficult to predict revenues and plan investments, creating financial uncertainty. A prolonged drop in prices can make some projects financially unfeasible. Unexpected operational challenges can result in cost overruns, especially in complex projects or difficult-to-reach reserves. Higher-than-expected operating costs can eat into profit margins, reducing financial stability. Exploration of gas emits hazardous toxins in air and water, which may affect environment and human health. This may result into penalties or fines from Government, which may adversely affect operations and financial position of the company.

8. Any unrest in the Jharkhand may result into impact of operations.

Any unrest in Jharkhand could have a potential impact on the operations of the oil and gas industry, particularly because Jharkhand plays a significant role in India's energy sector. Jharkhand is a key region for mining, including coal and other minerals, which are crucial for energy production. Any unrest could disrupt the transportation of raw materials to refineries and power plants, impacting energy production. In addition, oil and gas pipelines or infrastructure may be vulnerable to disruptions or sabotage. Oil and gas facilities in the region, including refineries, wells, and gas processing plants, could be at risk of direct physical damage due to civil unrest. Any threats to personnel or infrastructure could lead to shutdowns or delays. Unrest in a key state could deter investment in oil and gas exploration and production projects, as companies may hesitate to invest in areas facing political instability or violence. This would limit the expansion of operations in the region. Protests or unrest could also lead to delays in the approval of key environmental clearances or permits needed for new oil and gas projects. Roads, railways, and even air transport could be disrupted during times of unrest, delaying the transportation of oil, gas, and equipment needed for exploration, extraction, and distribution.

9. The loss of or interruption in operations of one or more of our Company's key suppliers of goods/services and shortages of supplies and services could have a material adverse effect on our Company's operations.

We are reliant upon many third party service providers and goods suppliers for our exploration & production and field development operations. This reliance on the third party suppliers involves several risks, including limited control over the price, timely delivery and quality of such goods or services that we procure. For certain services and materials, our company relies on a limited number of suppliers, which are critical for exploration operations. If our Company is to have a problem sourcing these goods and services or even transporting these goods from these suppliers to our block area, our operations may get hampered. For some of the goods and services that we use, we may not have commitments with the suppliers to ensure the continued supply of goods and services. Also any significant change in our suppliers base could cause material delays in our operations and consequently increase costs.

Further, any significant reduction in acceptable quality of goods or services or any significant increases in prices of the same could result in material operational delays, increasing our operating costs and limiting our ability to achieve targeted production volumes or otherwise materially and adversely affect our Company's business and operating results.

10. We may get dependent on few prominent buyers / consumers of natural gas and hence are subject to customer concentration risk

We have a single output product to sell i.e natural gas. Even though there are lot of different industries that consumes natural gas, there may happen a situation whereby we may get dependent on large 2 or 3 natural gas buyers for sales of bulk of our produced gas volumes. This may result in high dependence on those buyers for earning sales revenues for the business.

11. Our business requires skilled manpower and machines, any shortage of labour and machinery breakdown may affect operations.

The reliance on skilled manpower and machinery is a crucial aspect of the natural gas exploration and production business. Any shortage of skilled labor or breakdowns in machinery can have significant adverse effects on operations, productivity, and ultimately the financial health of a company. Skilled labour is essential for ensuring that operations run smoothly. In natural gas exploration and production, this includes engineers, geologists, drill operators, technicians, and safety personnel. A shortage of skilled workers can cause delays in drilling, exploration, and production activities, which may push back project timelines and reduce overall productivity. If the demand for skilled workers exceeds the supply, companies may need to offer higher wages, benefits, and incentives to attract and retain talent. This can increase operational costs, especially in highly specialized roles, and put pressure on profit margins. Skilled workers are responsible for maintaining high operational standards and ensuring the safety of the workforce and equipment. A shortage of skilled labour could lead to mistakes, reduced efficiency, and potentially unsafe work conditions. Safety violations or accidents can result in costly downtime, regulatory fines, or legal liabilities. The need to recruit and train new workers to fill skill gaps can lead to increased costs. Training takes time and resources, during which workers are not fully productive. Additionally, companies may need to invest in recruitment efforts to attract qualified candidates, especially in regions where there is a high demand for skilled labor in the energy sector.

Further, machinery breakdowns, whether in drilling rigs, extraction equipment, or transportation infrastructure, can lead to significant production downtime. This disrupts operations, causes delays in meeting production targets, and may result in lost revenue. Prolonged downtime can also negatively affect project timelines and result in higher operational costs as equipment repair or replacement becomes necessary. Continuous use of heavy machinery in harsh environments (e.g., drilling rigs, compressors, turbines) leads to wear and tear. Repairs or replacements can be expensive, particularly if critical machinery breaks down unexpectedly. In addition to the direct costs of repair or replacement, there may also be costs associated with lost production and the labor required for maintenance. If machinery is not functioning optimally due to breakdowns or ongoing maintenance, the overall efficiency of operations is reduced. This can lead to slower production rates, higher energy consumption, and increased operational costs. In the long term, poor machinery performance can lead to lower profit margins.

12. Our business requires services of third party contractors which may affect quality control.

The reliance on third-party contractors in the natural gas industry, particularly for services such as drilling, maintenance, logistics, construction, and support functions, can pose several risks, especially in terms of quality control. While third-party contractors are often essential for managing costs, filling skill gaps, or meeting short-term labor demands, their use can introduce various challenges that may impact the overall quality and safety of operations. Third-party contractors may not always adhere to the same quality standards and practices as the primary company. Differences in work processes, equipment maintenance, safety protocols, and product specifications can lead to inconsistencies in quality. This can be especially problematic when contractors are responsible for critical operations or equipment in exploration, drilling, or production activities. Additionally, contractors may not have the same level of institutional knowledge of your operations, leading to errors or inefficiencies. Third-party contractors may not always meet deadlines or adhere to project timelines, particularly if they are stretched thin across multiple projects. Delays caused by contractors can disrupt the overall timeline of exploration or production activities, leading to cost overruns, missed revenue opportunities, and reputational damage.

13. De watering cost is too high in gas exploration activity, which may have adverse effect on operations and financials.

Coal beds often contain water that must be removed in order for natural gas to be get detached from coal and flow to the well bore. Here the technical capability to remove and dispatch sufficient quantities of water from coal seal defines the speed with which the production of natural gas will be started from a well. Also of production is halted from a well for an extended period of time after getting commenced, the water accumulates again in the well and it requires further de-watering operation to be done involving additional cost apart from loss in revenues due to halting of production. Further if the water disposed fails to meet regulatory requirements in terms of water content and safety, the company may have to incur additional cost of water treatment facility and disposal operations. De watering costs in natural gas exploration and production, particularly in activities water-intensive extraction methods, can indeed have a significant impact on operations and the financial position of a company. These costs arise from the need to source, transport, store, and dispose of large volumes of water, which are critical to the drilling and extraction processes. The process requires significant water resources, often leading to high costs for sourcing and handling large volumes of water. Sourcing and transporting large quantities of water to remote drilling sites can incur high transportation, storage, and management costs. The infrastructure needed to supply water (such as pipelines, tanks, or trucks) adds to operational expenses. In some regions, water resources may be scarce, and companies may face competition for water rights, particularly in arid or drought-prone areas. Limited water availability can increase the cost of securing water for operations, either through purchasing rights or negotiating with local authorities. Governments and local authorities may impose restrictions on water usage for industrial purposes, especially in areas facing water shortages or environmental concerns. Further, the treatment and disposal of wastewater involve substantial costs, including the construction and operation of treatment facilities, compliance with environmental standards, and transportation to disposal sites.

14. Our business requires land for exploration activity, there is a risk regarding litigation with land owners.

Exploration activities for development any natural gas field happens on and beneath the land. Hence the possession of land is required to be obtained as first step. This is usually done through long term leasing or obtaining specific right of use and specific right of way.

It is possible that the dispute may arise post taking possession of the said land. Further since land is taken on lease or with right of use / way, with specific purpose for using the land, disputes regarding land compensation and usage may also take place. This can result into long litigation process involving litigation costs. Further such litigations may significantly slowdown the exploration and development activity of the natural gas field.

Further any kind of change in environmental measures or guidelines can further limit the ability of the company to perform intended business activity for the field.

All these risks can thereby result in a delay and can affect the financial performance of the company adversely.

15. Decline in prices of the gas due to Government policies may have adverse effect on operations.

The decline in natural gas prices due to changes in government policies can significantly impact the financial performance and operational stability of companies in the oil and gas sector. Government policies that influence gas prices may include subsidies, price controls, taxation, environmental regulations, and market interventions. These policy changes can lead to price volatility, reduced profitability, and challenges in maintaining operational efficiency. Natural gas prices are a key driver of revenue for gas exploration, production, and distribution companies. If government policies result in a decline in prices, companies may experience reduced revenues and profit margins, especially if the cost of production remains high. This can lead to financial strain and difficulty in meeting operational costs. Declining gas prices can reduce the attractiveness of natural gas projects to investors. This is particularly relevant for exploration and production companies that require significant capital investment. With lower returns on investment, the ability to secure financing for new projects or expansions may be hindered, leading to reduced growth opportunities. Declining prices may force companies to focus on cost-cutting measures, which can affect the quality of operations, safety standards, and overall efficiency. Companies might reduce staff, delay maintenance schedules, or cut back on exploration activities to minimize expenses. However, such actions can hurt long-term operational capabilities and productivity. A decline in prices may result in increased competition among natural gas producers, particularly in regions with an oversupply of gas. Companies may engage in price wars to maintain market share, further reducing profit margins. Smaller or less efficient producers may struggle to survive under these conditions, while larger companies may be forced to reduce prices even further to remain competitive.

16. Natural gas is an alternate fuel in India and adoption of natural gas as main stream fuel may take long time or may not happen at country wide level.

The adoption of natural gas as a mainstream fuel in India presents both significant opportunities and challenges. While natural gas is often considered a cleaner alternative to other fossil fuels like coal and oil, its widespread adoption may face several barriers, including infrastructure limitations, policy challenges, and competition from other energy sources. If natural gas does not become a mainstream fuel or if its adoption takes longer than expected, it could have implications for companies involved in the natural gas sector. One of the major barriers to the widespread adoption of natural gas in India is the underdeveloped pipeline infrastructure. Natural gas distribution requires an extensive network of pipelines to transport the fuel from production sites to consumers, industries, and power plants. While there are ongoing efforts to expand the pipeline network, large portions of the country, especially in rural and remote areas, lack the necessary infrastructure to support natural gas usage. India has historically relied heavily on coal for electricity generation and industrial purposes due to its abundance and cost-effectiveness. Despite the environmental concerns surrounding coal, the transition to natural gas as a fuel source may be slow, as it requires significant upfront investments in infrastructure and significant structural changes to existing power plants, which are often designed to run on coal. India has set ambitious targets for renewable energy generation, including solar and wind power, as part of its long-term energy strategy. Also other green fuels like hydrogen , etc. are also being encouraged in a big way through GoI sponsored missions like Natiaol Hydrogen mission. As the cost of renewable energy continues to decline, solar and wind energy may become more attractive alternatives, particularly in rural and remote areas. This may delay or reduce the transition to natural gas, as renewable energy sources become more cost-competitive and viable for India's energy needs. Reduced price of natural gas may further expose us to competition from other natural gas producers – local or international.

17. Our business requires long duration between well or field extraction of natural gas from it. So it is a long gestation business.

Natural Gas exploration industry is a long gestation industry where it may take years to fully develop the natural gas field. So, there is a multi-year gap between starting the field development activity and actually selling the natural gas.

Hence, the business has to survive during this development period as it may face risks like cashflow crunch, high financing costs, regulatory changes, environmental concerns as well as significant change in demand environment for natural gas when actually the business is ready with saleable natural gas.

18. Delay in connecting the block with national gas grid pipeline network may affect our business operations.

The delay in connecting a gas block to the national gas grid pipeline network can arise from various challenges, including regulatory approvals, technical issues, and infrastructure limitations. The process often requires extensive environmental assessments, land acquisition, and permits, which can take considerable time. Additionally, the construction of new pipeline segments or the upgrading of existing infrastructure may be hindered by logistical difficulties, weather conditions, and material shortages. Financial constraints, political factors, and community opposition can further contribute to delays. Furthermore, coordination between multiple stakeholders, including government authorities, energy companies, and contractors, is essential, and any miscommunication or unforeseen complications can extend the timeline for connecting the block to the national gas grid.

19. Lack of infrastructure facilities in the states we operate may affect our operations.

The absence of adequate infrastructure in the states where a company operates—particularly in industries such as natural gas exploration, production, and distribution—can severely hinder operational efficiency and overall performance.

Poor or underdeveloped infrastructure can lead to operational inefficiencies, higher costs, delays, and even regulatory challenges. The absence of well-developed road, rail, and pipeline infrastructure can create significant challenges in transporting equipment, materials, and workers to and from drilling sites, processing plants, and storage facilities. This can lead to delays in the execution of projects and increased transportation costs, particularly in remote or rural areas where infrastructure is limited. In areas where there is limited access to reliable electricity or where the grid is unstable, companies may need to invest in costly backup power solutions like generators or renewable energy sources. This adds to operational expenses and may lead to inefficiencies if power interruptions affect production timelines or the performance of equipment. Further lack of water infrastructure can lead to difficulties in sourcing sufficient water, particularly in drought-prone or underdeveloped areas. Similarly, the absence of adequate waste management systems may complicate the disposal of by-products and waste, leading to environmental concerns and regulatory challenges.

20. A significant portion of our revenue is from natural gas. Any decline in the exploration of gas could have a material adverse impact on financial performance.

Globally, the exploration and production of Coal Bed Methane (CBM) blocks in India company is dominated by limited players. Despite our efforts to have a diversified client, we may end up deriving a significant percentage of our revenue from a few customers / specific sector. While we have long-standing relations with some of our customers, the loss of any one of our significant customers or a significant reduction in demand from such customers, if not replaced, could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition. We may continue to remain dependent upon our key customers / key sector for a substantial portion of our revenues.

21. Our continued success depends on our ability to offer stability in products at competitive prices, which meet technological advances and achieve market acceptance.

The supply stability and timely delivery of our product at competitive prices are essential to customer satisfaction and retention. Unanticipated delays or cost overruns or failure in expanding our capacity to meet customer requirements could materially and adversely impact our results of operations and financial condition. Given the nature of our product and the sector in which we operate, our customers have high standards for supply stability and timely delivery.

In addition, the Gas exploration and production industry characterised by technological advances and evolving industry standards. Our future success will depend in part on our ability to develop and introduce new services or product that keep pace with changes in these standards and preferences, our ability to enhance our existing range of services or product, and our ability to achieve market acceptance. There can be no assurance that we will be successful in developing new services or products or incorporating evolving technologies into our services on a timely or cost-effective basis or at all, or if these products, services and solutions will be developed by us at our own research and development facilities, or that we will be successful in marketing and selling them and achieving market acceptance for such services or products.

22. Delays in completion of our current and future projects and cost overrun could have adverse effect on our business prospects and results of operations.

Typically, our exploration projects are subject to specific completion schedule requirements. We may require to provide performance guarantees to authorities or coal field owner, this requires us to complete projects within a specified time frame. We have faced delays in the completion of our projects and are expected to face delays in completion for certain of our projects which are under development. The scheduled completion targets for our projects are estimates and are subject to delays as a result of, among other things, unforeseen engineering problems, system clearance from customers, force majeure events, unavailability of financing, unanticipated cost increases etc. Failure to adhere to contractually agreed timelines for reasons other than for force majeure events and counter-party defaults could lead to forfeiture of security deposits, result in us requiring to pay liquidated damages or our performance guarantees being invoked. There can be no assurance that our projects will be completed in the time expected. The client may also be entitled to terminate the agreement in the event of delay in completion of the work or any other events. In the event of such termination, we may only receive partial payments under such agreements and such payments may fall well short of our estimated earnings from such projects. Further, we may not be able to obtain extensions for projects in time on which we face delays or time overruns. Delays may result in cost overruns, lower returns on capital and reduced revenue for the project companies, as well as failure to meet scheduled debt service payment dates and increased interest burdens from our financing arrangements for the projects.

23. As an exploration company, any shortfall in the supply of workforce or equipment or other input costs, may reduce our margin and may also adversely affect the pricing and supply of our product which may have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial conditions.

The primary equipment or raw material used in our exploration is related to following process: Drilling, Completion, Production, Civil, Hydro fracture, Reservoir and G&G, HSE and Cementation. Naming few Equipment, in relation with drilling are Drill Pipe, Centralizers, Barite, etc., Completion are Tubing ,Submersible Pump, etc., Production are Drive Head, Electrical Motors, etc., Civil are Ordinary Portland Cement and HDPE Liner, Hydro fracture are HCL, Acitic Acid, etc., Reservoir and G&G is Commet Software, HSE are Gas Detector, Fire Fighting equipment, Cementation are Cementing Chemical and Oil Well Cement. Any increase in the prices of any of the equipment mentioned above may have an adverse effect on our business and a consequent negative impact on our financial condition and results of operations. When downturns occur in these sectors, there may be reduced demand for exploration service.

If the price of equipment or raw material increases and we are not able to increase the price of our products, then the margins for our product will be reduced. Any material shortage or interruption in the domestic supply or deterioration in the quality of product due to natural causes or other factors could result in increased costs that we may not be able to pass on to customers. Also in absence of such long term contracts and the failure of our suppliers to deliver equipment or raw material in the necessary quantities or as per the required schedule, of a specified quality/ standard/ specification, may adversely affect our production processes thereby loss of customers, delay in timely delivery of our products, and/ or an adverse effect on our reputation, which may in turn result in a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. Although we have not encountered any significant disruptions in the sourcing and/or supply of our equipment or raw material, we cannot assure you that such disruptions will not occur and/or we shall continue to be able to source in a cost-effective manner. We have ownership of limited equipments , our third party contractors use their own equipments for the services they provide to us .

24. We may not be able to negotiate our contracts favourably which may adversely affect our financial results.

We enter into detailed contractual arrangements for the product we provide for our business. These contracts entered into by us, contain various covenants and obligations which we are required to comply with which include supervisions and reporting obligations, submissions of the necessary information at regular intervals, submission of relevant documents in relation to the equipment, employee and various other aspects. We are also required to provide performance guarantee to authorities / coal field owners in some of our contracts in initial stages of exploration and development of the coal beds. The terms and provisions of each of our contracts are individually negotiated with each supplier on a case-by-case basis. There is no assurance that we will be able to negotiate favourable terms or such terms which are similar to what we have signed now or will agree to in the future. Any onerous conditions which we agree to and may not comply with may have a significant impact on our business in the future. A failure to negotiate favourable terms of the contract, could lock us into low returns and have an adverse effect on our profits and results of operations.

25. In case of the event of disputes or delays we may incur additional costs or liquidated damages in the event of disputes or delays.

We may encounter disputes with our clients in relation to non-compliance with contract specifications including for delays in providing gas to the client. There is no assurance that any future disputes and claims will not result in protracted litigation, which may have a material and adverse impact on our financial performance.

There is no assurance that we will not be subject to levy of liquidated damages in future. Levy of liquidated damages on us or any liability that we will face as a result of the delays would adversely affect our business prospects, financial condition and results of operations.

26. Any incident relating to exploration safety may result in potential conflict with the customers and may adversely impact our reputation and business operations.

In the natural gas exploration and production industry, safety incidents—whether related to drilling, extraction, transportation, or processing—can have severe consequences for both the company and its stakeholders. These incidents may not only jeopardize the safety of employees, contractors, and local communities but can also lead to potential conflicts with customers, investors, regulatory authorities, and other key stakeholders. Customers—especially utilities and industrial clients that depend on a steady and safe supply of natural gas—may lose confidence in a company’s ability to deliver reliable and secure service if safety concerns arise.. A major incident, such as a blowout or an oil spill, can lead to concerns about the company’s operational standards and its commitment to safety. Negative media coverage can damage a company’s reputation and erode trust with both customers and the general public. This may lead to customers choosing to switch to competitors they perceive as safer or more reliable. Customers who feel their safety is at risk due to a company’s failure to maintain appropriate safety standards may seek to terminate contracts, cancel long-term agreements, or refrain from entering into new contracts. This can result in direct financial losses and long-term customer attrition. In some cases, a safety incident may result in legal action from customers or other stakeholders affected by the incident. Safety incidents can lead to production halts or reduced capacity, impacting the company's ability to meet customer demands.

27. There are outstanding legal proceedings involving our Company. Any adverse outcome in such legal proceedings may affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

There are outstanding litigation proceedings against our Company, which if determined adversely, could affect our business and the results of operations. A summary of outstanding litigations proceedings involving our Company is set out below:

Name of the Entity	Criminal Proceedings	Tax Proceedings	Statutory or Regulatory Proceedings	Economic Offence	Material Civil Litigation	Other pending matters, which if they result in an adverse outcome, would materially and adversely affect the operations or financial position of our Company	Aggregate amount involved (₹ in Lakhs)

Against the Company	Nil	Nil	Nil	Nil	Nil		Nil
Subsidiaries
By Subsidiaries	Nil	Nil	Nil	Nil	Nil		Nil
Against Subsidiaries	Nil	Nil	Nil	Nil	Nil		Nil

As on the date of this Letter of Offer, there are no outstanding litigations, which may have a material impact on our Company. Given the uncertainties and complexities of many of these regulatory or legal proceedings, their outcome generally cannot be predicted with any reasonable degree of certainty.

28. We are dependent on our Promoter, Directors, Key Managerial Personnel including other employees with technical expertise. Any loss of or our inability to attract or retain such persons could affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

We are dependent on our Promoter, Directors, Key Managerial Personnel for strategic business decisions and managing our business. The experience and leadership of our Promoter, Directors and Key Managerial Personnel has played a key factor in our growth and development. Our management team of qualified and experienced professionals helps us to implement our business strategies in an efficient manner and to continue to build on our track record of successful product offerings. We cannot assure you that we will be able to retain them or find adequate replacements in a timely manner, or with same level of skills and experience. Finding and hiring such replacements could be costly and length process and might require the company to grant significant equity awards or other incentives, which could adversely affect the financial performance of the company.

29. Our ability to pay dividends in the future will depend on our future cash flows, working capital requirements, capital expenditures and financial conditions.

The amount of our future dividend payments, if any, will be at the sole discretion of our Board of Directors/Right Issue Committee and will depend on, inter-alia, our future earnings, cash flows, financial conditions business requirements, pursuing growth opportunities, capital expenditures, and applicable Indian legal restrictions and other factors. There can be no assurance that we will pay dividends. We may decide to retain all of our earnings to finance the development of our business and, therefore, may not declare dividends on our Equity Shares. Our historical payment of dividends is not indicative of any payments of dividends in the future. We may be unable to pay dividends in the near or medium term and our future dividend policy will depend on our capital requirements, financial condition, cash flows, and results of operations.

30. Our Promoter and certain of our directors may be interested in our Company other than remuneration and reimbursement of expenses.

Our Promoter and certain Directors are interested in our Company, in addition to regular remuneration or benefits and reimbursement of expenses, to the extent of their shareholding, direct or indirect, and benefits arising therefrom. There can be no assurance that our Promoters and our Key Management Personnel will exercise their rights as shareholders to the benefit and best interest of our Company.

31. Our Promoters and Promoter Group have significant shareholding in our Company, which will allow them to exercise significant influence over us.

Our Promoters and Promoter Group holds a significant shareholding in our Company. Accordingly, they will exercise significant influence over our business and all matters requiring shareholders' approval, including the composition of our Board of Directors, the approval of mergers, strategic acquisitions, or the sales of substantially all our assets, and the policies for dividends, lending, investments, and capital expenditures. This concentration of ownership may also delay, defer, or even prevent a change in control of our Company and may make some transactions more difficult or impossible without the support of our Promoters and Promoter Group. Further, the Takeover Regulations may limit the ability of a third party to acquire control of our Company. The interests of our Promoters, as our Company's controlling shareholder, could conflict with our Company's interests, your interests, or the interests of our other shareholders.

32. The sector our company is depended on policies of Government of India, changes in it might have adverse effects on our business.

We will be supplying natural gas to various industrial gas consumers and retail gas consumers in India and presently, significant majority of our revenue is depended on two blocks.

Our business and our industry are heavily regulated, directly and indirectly, through the policies of the Government of India and related ministry and sector regulators for the oil and gas industry. Adverse changes in government policies, rules, regulations, compliance requirements could harm our business and results of operations in many significant ways, including with respect to the negative growth of our business and our industry and our overall profitability.

The regulatory and policy environment in which we operate is evolving and subject to change. There can be no assurance that the Government of India may not implement new regulations and policies which will require us to obtain approvals and licenses from the Government of India and other regulatory bodies or impose onerous requirements, conditions, costs and expenditures on our operations. Any such changes and the related uncertainties with respect to the implementation of the new regulations may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. In addition, we may have to incur capital expenditures to comply with the requirements of any new regulations, which may also materially harm our results of operations.

33. Change in technology may render our current oil and gas extraction and production methods technology obsolete or require us to make further substantial capital investment in technology and equipments.

The technological standards of all the techniques and equipments that we use for extraction and production of natural gas may change, including based on the requirements of the business. Gas sales or supply equipment and processes that we currently use may become obsolete or less efficient compared to more advanced technology equipment and processes that may be preferred by our clients in the future. The cost of upgradation of our equipment or implementation of such advanced technology processes could be significant and may require us to make substantial capital investment which could adversely affect our results of operations and financial position. Our business and profitability may be negatively affected if we are unable to keep pace with changes in technology and thereby, fail to enhance the existing equipment and processes or make the capital investments required for such changes.

34. Our business is capital intensive, and it may require additional financing in the future for growth.

We operate in a capital-intensive industry and the further expansion and development of our business requires significant additional capital. Substantial additional funds are required if we wish to expand operations in present gas blocks or develop more gas blocks in future. We may, from time to time, obtain additional capital through debt or equity financing to fund our capital expenditures. Financing through the issue of new equity securities may result in dilution to the holders of our Equity Shares and such new equity securities may have rights, preferences or privileges senior to those of existing Shareholders.

Additional debt financing, if obtained, may expose us to the covenants imposed by the financial institutions or lenders. These covenants may include, among others, restrictions to pay dividends or require us to dedicate a substantial portion of our cash flow from operations to the payments of our debt. All these restrictions will reduce the availability of our cash flow to fund further capital expenditures, working capital and other general corporate purposes and limit our flexibility in planning for, or reacting to, changes in our business and industry.

While we have so far been able to borrow the funds necessary to finance our operations in the current market environment, any prolonged disruptions to the credit markets could limit our ability to borrow funds from our current funding sources or cause our continued access to funds to become more expensive. These market conditions may also limit our ability to replace, in a timely manner, maturing liabilities and access the capital necessary to grow our business. If any of the above events materialise, our business, financial performance and financial position may be adversely affected.

35. We are subject to certain covenants under our credit facilities that place restrictions on us and may affect our business, operations and cash flows.

Certain debt financing agreements that we have entered contain restrictive covenants and/or events of default that limit our ability to undertake certain types of transactions. Certain of our debt financing agreements also include various conditions and covenants that require us to obtain lender consents prior to carrying out certain activities or entering certain transactions. These debt financing agreements also require us to maintain certain specified financial capital ratios.

Typically, restrictive covenants under our financing documents relate to obtaining prior consent of the lenders for, amongst others:

- effecting any change in our capital structure.
- formulating any scheme of amalgamation or reconstruction.
- implementing any scheme of expansion/ diversification/ modernization other than incurring routine capital expenditure.
- declaring dividends or distributing profits except where the instalments of principal and interest payable to a particular lender is being paid regularly and there are no irregularities in relation thereto.

We cannot assure you that we have complied with all such restrictive covenants in a timely manner or at all or that we will be able to comply with all such restrictive covenants in the future. A failure to observe the restrictive covenants under our debt financing agreements or to obtain necessary consents required hereunder may lead to the termination of our credit facilities, levy of default interest, acceleration of all amounts due under such facilities and the enforcement of any security provided in relation thereto. Any acceleration of amounts due under such debt financing agreements may also trigger cross-default or cross-acceleration provisions under our other debt financing agreements. If the obligations under any of our debt financing agreements are accelerated, we may have to dedicate a substantial portion of our cash flow from operations to make payments under such debt financing agreements, thereby reducing the availability of cash to fund our capital expenditures, meet working capital requirements, use for other general corporate purposes, limit our flexibility in planning for, or reacting to changes in our business and our industry, either through the imposition of restrictive financial or operational covenants or otherwise. Further, during any period in which we are in default, we may be unable to raise, or may face difficulties raising, further financing. In addition, in such eventuality, other third parties may have concerns over our financial position. Any of these circumstances could adversely affect our business, credit ratings, prospects, results of operations and financial condition. Moreover, any such action initiated by our lenders could result in the price of the equity shares of our Company being adversely affected.

36. Compliance with and changes in, safety, health and labour laws and regulations may adversely affect our results of operations and our financial condition.

In recent years, safety, health and labour laws and regulations in India have become increasingly stringent and it is possible that they will become significantly more stringent in the future. We are subject to a broad range of safety, health and labour laws and regulations while undertaking our business. We enter contractual arrangements with our clients to provide them natural gas. Pursuant to these contractual arrangements, we are required to ensure compliance at our end with various laws which are applicable to us during our contracts, including safety, health and labour laws, failing which we shall be required to indemnify our clients. In most cases, our clients have the primary responsibility to obtain environmental licenses and ensure compliance with the underlying conditions, however, a portion of responsibility for complying with these environmental laws is passed on to us by way of conditions in the contracts entered with our clients failing which we shall be required to indemnify our clients. Further, there can be no assurance that we will not be involved in future litigation or other proceedings or be held responsible in any litigation or proceedings relating to safety, health and environmental matters, the costs of which could be material. Any levies or fines imposed on us or additional expenditure which we may incur for compliance with these, may adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition. We could be subject to substantial civil and criminal liability and other regulatory consequences in the event the operation of any of our businesses results in material contamination of the environment. We may be the subject of allegations of environmental pollution in suits filed by state pollution control authorities which may attract criminal and civil liabilities.

India has stringent labour legislation that protects the interests of workers, including legislation that sets forth detailed procedures for the establishment of unions, dispute resolution and employee removal and legislation that imposes certain financial obligations on employers upon retrenchment. Also, any upward revision of the prescribed minimum wage or other benefits required to be paid to our workers (including in the event of injuries or death sustained in course of employment, dismissal or retrenchment) will result in the increase in cost of labour which we may be unable to pass on to our clients due to market conditions and also the pre agreed conditions of contract. This would result in us being required to absorb the additional cost, which may have a material adverse impact on our profitability.

37. We are exposed to potential liability arising from any damage, injury or death resulting from accidents or other causes.

Due to the nature of our operations, we are subject to the risk of accidents occurring either to our employees or to third parties while on site of our client's projects. These accidents may occur as a result of occurrences such as fire, explosions or other incidents that may result in injury to persons, death or damage to property. While we have instituted safety procedures, we cannot provide assurance that accidents resulting in injury to persons, death or damage to property will not arise. We may be liable, whether contractually or under the law, for any or all of such loss or damage or injury to or loss of life.

38. We require certain registrations and permits from government and regulatory authorities in the ordinary course of business and the failure to obtain them in a timely manner or at all may adversely affect our operations.

We require a number of approvals, licenses, registrations and permits for operating our businesses. Whilst we have already obtained a significant number of approvals required at current stage of progress for our businesses, certain approvals which we have applied for are currently pending. All of our contractual arrangements which we have entered into require us to obtain the relevant government approvals during the term of such projects. Moreover, during the course of our business, we may need to apply for additional approvals and licenses in future. Further, we may need to renew some of the approval and licenses, which may expire, from time to time, in the ordinary course. If we fail to obtain or renew any applicable approvals, licenses, registrations and permits in a timely manner, our ability to undertake our businesses may be adversely impacted, which could adversely affect results of operations and profitability. Furthermore, our government approvals and licenses may be subject to numerous conditions, some of which could be onerous. There can be no assurance that we will be able to apply for any approvals, licenses, registrations or permits in a timely manner, or at all, and there can be no assurance that the relevant authorities will issue or renew any such approvals, licenses, registrations or permits in the time frames anticipated by us. Further, we cannot assure that the approvals, licenses, registrations and permits issued to us would not be suspended or revoked in the event of non-compliance or alleged non-compliance with any terms or conditions thereof, or pursuant to any regulatory action. Any failure to renew the approvals that have expired or apply for and obtain the required approvals, licenses, registrations or permits, or any suspension or revocation of any of the approvals, licenses, registrations and permits that have been or may be issued to us, may impede our operations and we may be required to incur additional expenditure in this regard.

39. Force majeure events may disrupt our business which could seriously harm our future revenue and financial condition and increase our costs and expenses.

Our company's operations could be subject to war, terrorism, earthquakes, power shortages, telecommunications failures, any sanctions imposed on our clients or India as a country, water shortages, tsunamis, floods, hurricanes, typhoons, fires, extreme weather conditions, medical epidemics, and other natural or manmade disasters or business interruptions. The occurrence of any of these business disruptions could seriously harm our revenue and financial condition and increase our costs and expenses. The ultimate impact on us, our significant suppliers and our general infrastructure as a result of such natural or manmade disasters or business interruptions is unknown, but our revenue, profitability and financial condition could suffer in the event of any such natural or manmade disasters or business interruptions.

40. Any crystallization of our significant contingent liabilities could materially and adversely affect our business, financial conditions, result of operations and prospects.

Our contingent liabilities primarily consist of outstanding performance guarantees given to authorities/coal field owners and direct/indirect tax demand(s) under dispute. If any of these contingent liabilities materialize, our business, financial conditions, cash flows and result of operations and prospects may be materially and adversely impacted.

41. The success of our business is dependent on various project management and other operating procedures developed by us which know-how cannot be protected under any intellectual property right regime. Further, our client's and our own technical know-how or other confidential information may be misappropriated by our employees in violation of applicable confidentiality agreements.

We have since our inception developed expertise and know how relating to various management and operating methodologies and procedures, which are utilized by us in executing our projects in an efficient manner within the time lines and other parameters specified by our clients. We believe that this know-how provides us with a significant competitive advantage. However, such expert knowhow cannot be protected under any particular intellectual property right regime. In order to help maintain the confidentiality of our procedural know-how, we maintain internal controls and systems and enter into non-disclosure agreements with our vendors and some of our employees. However, if we are unable to maintain the confidentiality of our procedural know-how relating to our project management and other operating methodologies, it could have a material adverse effect on our business.

Furthermore, although we require our employees to enter into non-disclosure arrangements to limit access to and distribution of our clients' and our technical know-how and other confidential information, there can be no assurance that such steps will be adequate to ensure protection of such information. If any of our clients' or our proprietary rights is misappropriated by our employees, this may affect our reputation and relationship with existing and potential clients, and adversely affect our business operations.

42. The loss of the services of skilled employees and of our key management personnel could adversely affect our business.

While we believe we can draw upon a pool of adequately qualified candidates to meet our man-power needs, our business is dependent on our maintaining a skilled workforce. Several members of our senior management team have been with our company for several years and have extensive knowledge about our operations. If we lose the services of senior management personnel, it may be difficult to find, relocate and integrate replacement personnel in a timely manner, which could seriously affect our operations and the growth of our business.

Additionally, we may not have in-place the necessary systems and processes to develop key personnel internally, which may limit our ability to retain such personnel. Although we undertake training and development of our employees internally, such measures adopted by us may or may not be adequate to develop and retain employees. We also have a pool of highly skilled personnel that are deployed to operate some of the specialised equipment we use. We may not be able to find replacements for such skilled personnel at a short notice if any or all of them leave our Company. Our failure to have or retain quality personnel in key positions and functions could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

43. We have entered into, and will continue to enter into, related party transactions.

As of December 31, 2025, we have entered certain related party transactions primarily in nature of remuneration to directors and KMP. For further details please refer to the section “Financial Information” on page 96 of this Letter of Offer.

We are involved in, and we expect that we will continue to be involved in, related party transactions. There can be no assurance that we will receive favourable terms in our related party transactions or that any favourable terms which currently benefit us will continue. Although, we ensure that our related party transactions are done on arm’s length after having been ratified by the board of directors and in accordance with the applicable laws, we cannot assure you that we can comply with all the legal requirements in relation to our related party transactions.

44. Our trademark and corporate logo are not registered.

We have not filed an application for the registration of our trademark before any Trademarks Registry. As a result, we cannot claim the statutory protection which can be afforded by a statutorily registered trademark. Failure to protect our trademark may prevent us from effectively enforcement of our trademark, as a result we may need to change our logo. Any such change could materially adversely impact our business and require us to incur costs. This could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

45. Some of the premises from which we operate or are used by us for the purposes of our operations are taken on a leave and license basis. Any termination of the relevant leave and license agreements in connection with such premises or our failure to renew the same could adversely affect our operations.

Some of the premises from which we operate or are used by us for the purposes of our operations are taken on a leave and license basis. If we are required to vacate these premises and relocate our office, we will be required to spend time and financial resources to locate suitable premises to set up these units, which may adversely affect our financial condition. Also, we may be unable to relocate to an appropriate location in a timely manner, or at all. Additionally, if the owner of such premises renews such agreements on terms and conditions that are unfavourable to our Company or terminates the agreements prior to its tenure, our business and results of operations may be adversely affected. In addition, any adverse impact on the title and ownership rights of the owners from whose premises we operate or any breach of the contractual terms of such leave and license agreements may adversely impact us.

46. Any failure in our IT systems could adversely impact our business.

Any delay in implementation or disruption of the functioning of our IT systems could disrupt our ability to track, record and analyse work in progress causing loss of data and disruption to our operations, including an inability to assess the progress of our projects, process financial information or manage creditors/debtors or engage in normal business activities. This could have a material adverse effect on our business.

47. Our insurance coverage may not adequately protect us against all material hazards.

We are insured against the risks associated with our business, such as equipment failure, workmen's compensation & employee liability insurance, third party liability, transit insurance, work accidents. Our contracts require us to obtain insurance for the project undertaken by us. While we believe that the insurance coverage which we maintain would be reasonably adequate to cover the normal risks associated with the operation of our business and we are in compliance with the requirements of the contracts, we cannot assure you that any claim under the insurance policies maintained by us will be honoured fully, in part or on time, or that we have taken out sufficient insurance to cover all material losses. Notwithstanding the insurance coverage that we carry, we may not be fully insured against some business risks and the occurrence of an event that causes losses in excess of limits specified under the relevant policy, or losses arising from events not covered by insurance policies, could adversely affect our cash flows, business, results of operations and financial condition. If we are subject to litigation or claims against our insurers, we cannot assure you that our insurance policies will be adequate to cover the losses that may be incurred. If we suffer large uninsured losses or if any insured losses suffered by us significantly exceed our insurance coverage, it may adversely affect our cash flows, business, results of operations and financial condition. Also the nature of business operations involves various risky and potentially hazardous activities some of which may not be full or partially insurable be the insurance companies . To the extent that we suffer loss or damage for which we did not obtain or maintain insurance, and which is not covered by insurance or exceeds our insurance coverage, the loss would have to be borne by us and our results of operations, cash flows and financial performance could be adversely affected.

48. Appreciation of INR may result into lower realisation of sale proceeds of natural gas since the natural gas sales price is benchmarked against international natural gas prices which is priced in dollars.

An appreciation of the Indian Rupee (INR) can lead to lower realization of sale proceeds from natural gas exports, as the sale price of natural gas is typically benchmarked against international prices, which are quoted in US dollars. When the INR strengthens against the dollar, the amount of rupees received per unit of gas sold in dollars decreases. This results in lower revenue when converted into INR, as the exchange rate reduces the value of the dollar-denominated sales proceeds. For gas producers and exporters, this can negatively impact earnings, as they receive fewer rupees for the same quantity of gas, potentially affecting profitability and the financial viability of their operations.

49. It may have adverse effect on company if debt / equity rating of the company is downgraded.

A downgrade in the debt or equity rating of a company can have significant negative consequences. For debt ratings, a downgrade typically results in higher borrowing costs, as lenders demand higher interest rates to compensate for increased perceived risk. This can lead to higher interest expenses for the company and may limit its access to capital markets. Similarly, a downgrade in the company's equity rating often causes a decline in stock prices, reflecting decreased investor confidence and higher perceived risk. The company may also face reduced liquidity, as investors may shy away from holding its securities. In both cases, a downgrade can erode shareholder value, increase financial instability, and make it more difficult for the company to raise capital, either through debt or equity, in the future.

50. Unanticipated abandonment cost of well/field.

Unanticipated abandonment costs of a well or field refer to unexpected expenses that arise when decommissioning or shutting down an oil or gas field at the end of its productive life. These costs can be significantly higher than initially planned due to factors such as unforeseen site conditions, underestimation of the decommissioning scope, or changes in environmental regulations. Challenges such as more complex well plugging, additional environmental restoration, or increased costs of labour and materials can further escalate expenses. Furthermore, if a company has not adequately set aside financial provisions or made proper cost estimates for abandonment, these unforeseen costs can strain its cash flow and financial stability. Such unanticipated expenses highlight the importance of thorough planning and proper reserves for field abandonment to mitigate financial risks at the end of an asset's life.

51. Risks of termination of contract by regulator or Government of India.

The risk of contract termination by a regulator or the Government of India (GOI) can have severe implications for businesses, particularly those in highly regulated sectors such as energy, infrastructure, and natural resources. If a contract is terminated due to non-compliance with regulatory requirements, failure to meet performance standard, or changes in government policies, companies can face significant financial losses, including the forfeiture of investments and sunk costs. Additionally, such termination can cause operational disruptions, delays, and increased costs associated with winding down or transitioning projects. The reputational damage to the company can be long-lasting, affecting its ability to secure future contracts or financing. Moreover, the company may face legal challenges, penalties, and prolonged disputes, further complicating its position.

Risks Relating to the Issue and Objects of the Issue

52. Our funding requirements and proposed deployment of the Net Proceeds are based on management estimates and have not been independently appraised and may be subject to change based on various factors, some of which are beyond our control.

The objects of the Issue have not been appraised by any bank or financial institution, and our funding requirement is based on current conditions and internal estimates and are subject to changes in external circumstances or costs, or in other financial condition, business or strategy. Such internal estimates may differ from the value that would have been determined by third party appraisals / estimates. Based on the competitive nature of our industry, we may have to revise our business plan and/ or management estimates from time to time and consequently our funding requirements may also change, which may require us to reschedule or reallocate our expenditure, subject to applicable laws. In case of increase in actual expenses or shortfall in requisite funds, additional funds for a particular activity will be met by any means available to us, including internal accruals and additional equity and/or debt arrangements, and may have an adverse impact on our business, results operations, financial condition and cash flows. Accordingly, investors in the Equity Shares will be relying on the judgment of our management regarding the application of the Net Proceeds. Our Company, in accordance with the applicable law and to attain the Objects of the Issue as set out in this Letter of Offer, will have the flexibility to deploy the Net Proceeds. We have appointed CARE as the Monitoring Agency for monitoring the utilization of Gross Proceeds in accordance with Regulation 82 of the SEBI ICDR Regulations and the Monitoring Agency will submit its report to us on a quarterly basis in accordance with the SEBI ICDR Regulations which will be uploaded on the website of our Company and will also be intimated on the websites of the Stock Exchanges.

53. Foreign investors are subject to restrictions under Indian laws, which may limit our ability to attract foreign investment and the rights of shareholders under Indian law may differ from those in other jurisdictions.

Under the current foreign exchange regulations in India, transfers of shares between non-residents and residents are generally permitted, subject to compliance with pricing guidelines and reporting requirements set by the RBI. If a transfer does not comply with these guidelines or falls under specific exceptions, prior approval from the RBI will be required. Shareholders wishing to convert proceeds from the sale of shares into foreign currency and repatriate it will also need a no-objection or tax clearance certificate from the income tax authorities. We cannot guarantee that any necessary approvals from the RBI or other government agencies will be granted, or that they will be obtained on favourable terms. Additionally, the Government of India may impose foreign exchange restrictions in certain emergency situations, such as significant fluctuations in interest rates or exchange rates, balance of payments difficulties, or disturbances in financial and capital markets.

Our corporate affairs are governed by our Articles of Association and Indian law, which may differ from those in other jurisdictions. Shareholders' rights under Indian law, including in relation to class actions, may not be as extensive as in other countries, potentially making it more difficult for investors to assert their rights.

54. There are significant differences between Ind AS, and other accounting standards, such as IFRS and U.S. GAAP, which investors outside India may be more familiar with and may consider material to their assessment of our financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

Our financial statements as at and for the years ended March 31, 2025 and 2024 have been prepared in accordance with Ind AS. Ind AS differs from accounting principles and auditing standards with which prospective investors may be familiar in other countries, including U.S. GAAP or IFRS. Accordingly, the degree to which our financial statements as at and for the years ended March 31, 2025 and 2024 will provide meaningful information is dependent on your familiarity with Ind AS. Any reliance on this financial information by persons who are unfamiliar with Ind AS should, accordingly, be limited.

55. Investors will be subject to market risks from the date they pay for the Rights Equity Shares until the Equity Shares are credited to the investor's demat account are listed and permitted to trade.

The Equity Shares that you may be Allotted in this Issue may not be credited to your demat account with the depository participants until approximately two days from the Issue Closing Date. You can start trading such Equity Shares only after receipt of the listing and trading approval in respect thereof. We cannot assure you that the Equity Shares allocated to you will be credited to your demat account, or that trading in such Equity Shares will commence within the specified time period, subjecting you to market risk for such period since our Equity Shares are currently traded on the Stock Exchanges. The Rights Entitlement of Eligible Equity Shareholders credited to the Demat Suspense Account may lapse in case they fail to furnish the details of their demat account to the Registrar.

In accordance with Regulation 77A of the SEBI ICDR Regulations read with the SEBI ICDR Master Circular, the credit of Rights Entitlements and Allotment of Rights Equity Shares shall be made in dematerialized form only. Prior to the Issue Opening Date, our Company shall credit the Rights

Entitlements to the demat accounts of the Eligible Equity Shareholders holding the Equity Shares in dematerialised form.

Our Company has opened a separate demat suspense escrow account (namely, “MI IPL PRABHA ENERGY LTD RIGHTS ESCROW DEMAT ACCOUNT”) (“Demat Suspense Account”) and would credit Rights Entitlements on the basis of the Equity Shares: (a) held by Eligible Equity Shareholders which are held in physical form as on Record Date (b) which are held in the account of the Investor Education and Protection Fund (“IEPF”) authority; or (c) which of the Eligible Equity Shareholder whose demat accounts are frozen or where the Equity Shares are lying in the unclaimed/ suspense escrow account / demat suspense account (including those pursuant to Regulation 39 of the SEBI LODR Regulations) or details of which are unavailable with our Company or with the Registrar on the Record Date or where Equity Shares have been kept in abeyance or where entitlement certificate has been issued or where instruction has been issued for stopping issue or transfer or where letter of confirmation lying in escrow account; or (d) where credit of the Rights Entitlements have returned/reversed/failed for any reason; or (e) where ownership is currently under dispute, including any court or regulatory proceedings or where legal notices have been issued, if any or (f) such other cases where our Company is unable to credit Rights Entitlements for any other reasons.

Our Company shall credit the Rights Entitlements to the Demat Suspense Account on the basis of information available with our Company and to serve the interest of relevant Eligible Equity Shareholders to provide them with a reasonable opportunity to participate in the Issue. The credit of the Rights Entitlements to the Demat Suspense Account by our Company does not create any right in favour of the relevant Eligible Equity Shareholders for transfer of Rights Entitlement to their demat account or to receive any Equity Shares in the Issue.

With respect to the Rights Entitlements credited to the Demat Suspense Account, the Eligible Equity Shareholders are required to provide relevant details / documents as acceptable to our Company or the Registrar (such as applicable regulatory approvals, self-attested PAN and client master sheet of demat account, details/ records confirming the legal and beneficial ownership of their respective Equity Shares, etc.) to our Company or the Registrar no later than two clear Working Days prior to the Issue Closing Date to enable credit of their Rights Entitlements by way of transfer from the Demat Suspense Account to their demat account at least one day before the Issue Closing Date, to enable such Eligible Equity Shareholders to make an application in this Issue, and this communication shall serve as an intimation to such Eligible Equity Shareholders in this regard. In the event that the Eligible Equity Shareholders are not able to provide relevant details to our Company or the Registrar by the end of two clear Working Days prior to the Issue Closing Date, Rights Entitlements credited to the Demat Suspense Account shall lapse and extinguish in due course and such Eligible Equity Shareholder shall not have any claim against our Company and our Company shall not be liable to any such Eligible Equity Shareholder in any form or manner and such lapsing of Rights Entitlement may dilute and adverse impact the interest of certain Eligible Equity Shareholders. For details, please see “Terms of the Issue” on page 109.

56. Applicants to this Issue are not allowed to withdraw their Applications after the Issue Closing Date.

In terms of the SEBI ICDR Regulations, applicants in this Issue are not allowed to withdraw their Applications after the Issue Closing Date. The Allotment in this Issue and the credit of such Rights Equity Shares to the Applicant’s demat account with its depository participant shall be completed within such period as prescribed under the applicable laws. There is no assurance, however, that material adverse changes in the international or national monetary, financial, political or economic conditions or other events in the nature of force majeure, material adverse changes in our business, results of operations or financial condition, or other events affecting the Applicant’s decision to invest in the Rights Equity Shares, would not arise after the Issue Closing Date and before the date of Allotment in this Issue. Occurrence of any such events after the Issue Closing Date could also impact the market price of our Equity Shares. The Applicants shall not have the right to withdraw their applications in the event of any such occurrence. We cannot assure you that the market price of our Equity Shares will not decline below the Issue Price. To the extent the market price for our Equity Shares declines below the Issue Price after the Issue Closing Date, the shareholder will be required to purchase Rights Equity Shares at a price that will be higher than the actual market price for the Equity Shares at that time. Should that occur, the shareholder will suffer an immediate unrealized loss as a result. We may complete the Allotment even if such events may limit the Applicants' ability to sell our Equity Shares after this Issue or cause the trading price of our Equity Shares to decline.

57. Failure to exercise or sell the Rights Entitlements will cause the Rights Entitlements to lapse without compensation and result in a dilution of your shareholding.

Rights Entitlements that are not exercised prior to the end of the Issue Closing Date will expire and become null and void, and Eligible Equity Shareholders will not receive any consideration for them. The proportionate ownership and voting interest in our Company of Eligible Equity Shareholders who fail (or are not able) to exercise their Rights Entitlements will be diluted. Even if you elect to sell your unexercised Rights Entitlements, the consideration you receive for them may not be sufficient to fully compensate you for the dilution of your percentage ownership of the equity share capital of our Company that may be caused as a result of the Issue. Renounees may not be able to apply in case of failure of completion of renunciation through off-market transfer in such a manner that the Rights Entitlements are credited to the demat account of the Renounees prior to the Issue Closing Date. Further in case, the Rights Entitlements do not get credited in time, in case of On Market Renunciation, such Renounee will not be able to apply in this Issue with respect to such Rights Entitlements. For details, see "Terms of the Issue– Renunciation and Trading of Rights Entitlement" on page 109

58. From the Call Record Date for each Call prior to the final Call, the trading of the Rights Equity Shares would be suspended for a period under applicable law. Further, the Rights Equity Shares will not be traded with effect from the Call Record Date for the final call fixed for the determination of the Investors liable to pay Call Monies, with terms and conditions such as the number of Calls and the timing and quantum of each Call as may be decided by our Board/Right Issue Committee from time to time. The holders of the Rights Equity Shares will not be able to trade in these securities till they are credited to the holders' account as fully paid-up. Further, until the subsistence of Rights Equity Shares issued by way of this Issue, we may not be able to undertake certain forms of equity capital raising.

The Issue Price is ₹ 144 per Rights Equity Share. Investors will have to pay ₹48.96 per Rights Equity Share, which constitutes 34% of the Issue Price on Application and the balance amount (after payment of Application Money) ₹95.04 per Rights Equity Share, which constitutes 66% of the Issue Price, in two subsequent Call(s), with terms and conditions such as the number of Calls and the timing and quantum of each Call as may be decided by our Board/Right Issue Committee from time to time.

The Rights Equity Shares offered under this Issue will be listed under a separate ISIN. An active market for trading may not develop for the Rights Equity Shares. This may affect the liquidity of the Rights Equity Shares and restrict your ability to sell them. If our Company does not receive the Call Money as per the timelines stipulated in the Call notice, unless extended by our Board/Right Issue Committee, the defaulting Rights Equity Shareholders will be liable to pay interest as may be fixed by our Board/Right Issue Committee unless waived or our Company may forfeit the Application Money and any Call Money received for previous Calls made, in accordance with the Companies Act, 2013 and our Articles of Association. For details, see "Terms of the Issue" on page 109

Rights Equity Shareholders are only entitled to dividend in proportion to the amount paid-up and the voting rights (exercisable on a poll) by investors shall also be proportional to such investor's share of the paid-up equity capital of our Company. If certain investors do not pay the full amount, we may not be able to raise the amount proposed under this Issue. The ISIN representing partly paid-up Rights Equity Shares will be terminated after the Call Record Date for the final Call. On payment of the final Call in respect of the partly paid-up Rights Equity Shares, such partly paid-up Rights Equity Shares would be converted into fully paid-up Equity Shares and shall be listed and identified under the existing ISIN for our fully paid-up Equity Shares. Our Company would fix a Call Record Date for the purpose of determining the list of allottees to whom the notice for the final Call would be sent. From the Call Record Date for each Call prior to the final Call, the trading of the Rights Equity Shares would be suspended for a period under the applicable law. Further, with effect from the Call Record Date, trading in the partly paid-up Rights Equity Shares for which final Call have been made, would be suspended prior to the Call Record Date, for such period as may be applicable under the rules and regulations.

Furthermore, the holders of the partly paid-up Rights Equity Shares will not be able to trade in these shares until they are credited to the holders' account as fully paid-up Rights Equity Shares. Further, there is limited history of trading partly paid-up shares in India and therefore, there could be less liquidity in the trading of partly paid-up shares, which may cause the price of the Equity Shares to fall and may limit ability of Investors to sell the Equity Shares. There may also be a risk of the Rights Equity Shares not forming part of the index. Further, until the subsistence of Rights Equity Shares, we cannot undertake further rights issues, further public offers or bonus issues, since in terms of Regulations 62 and 104 of the SEBI ICDR Regulations, an issuer making a rights issue or further public offer is required to ensure that all its existing partly paid-up equity shares have either been fully paid-up or have been forfeited. Additionally, a bonus issue will not be permitted under law till the subsistence of partly paid-up equity shares in terms of Regulation 293 of the SEBI ICDR Regulations.

59. Non-receipt of complete Call Money(ies) may have an impact of a consequential shortfall in Net Proceeds and shall also result in forfeiture of the Rights Equity Shares allotted to such Eligible Equity Shareholders who fail to pay Call Money(ies).

The Calls shall be deemed to have been made at the time when the resolution authorizing such calls is passed at the meeting of Board/Right Issue Committee. The Calls may be revoked or postponed at the discretion of our Board/Right Issue Committee, from time to time. Pursuant to the provisions of the Articles of Association, investors will be given at least 14 days' notice in writing for the payment of the Calls. Our Board/Right Issue Committee may, from time to time at its discretion, extend the time fixed for the payments of the Calls. Our Company, at its sole discretion, may send reminders for the calls as it deems fit, and if it does not receive the Call Money(ies) as per the timelines stipulated, it would forfeit the Application Money. Non-receipt of complete Call Money(ies) and a consequential forfeiture of the Application Money may lead to a shortfall in the Net Proceeds, which may have to be met out of internal accruals and may impact our business, operating expenditure and growth opportunities. For details, see "Objects of the Issue" on page 80.

The non-receipt of the Call Monies within the timelines stipulated would also result in forfeiture of the Rights Equity Shares of such Eligible Equity Shareholders in accordance with the Companies Act, 2013 and Articles of Association.

60. Our Company will not distribute the Letter of Offer and other Issue related materials to overseas shareholders who have not provided an address in India for service of documents.

Pursuant to the requirements of the SEBI ICDR Regulations and other applicable laws, the Rights Entitlements will be credited to the demat account of the Eligible Equity Shareholders who are Equity Shareholders as on the Record Date, however, the Letter of Offer and other Issue related materials (together, the “Issue Materials”) will be sent/ dispatched only to such Eligible Equity Shareholders who have provided an Indian address to our Company or who are located in jurisdictions where the offer and sales of the Rights Equity Shares is permitted under the laws of such jurisdiction, subject to compliance with Applicable Law in India (together, the “Relevant Requirements”) and only such Eligible Equity Shareholders are permitted to participate in the Issue. The Equity Shareholders who do not satisfy the Relevant Requirements will not be eligible to participate in the Issue and accordingly, their shareholding as a percentage of the paid-up capital of our Company post Issue will stand reduced to the extent of non-participation.

Further, in the case that Eligible Equity Shareholders who satisfy the Relevant Requirements and have also provided their valid e-mail address, the Issue Materials will be sent only to their valid e-mail address and in the case that such Eligible Equity Shareholders have not provided their e-mail address, then the Issue Materials will be dispatched, on a reasonable effort basis, to the addresses provided by them.

The Issue Materials will not be distributed to overseas shareholders who do not meet the Relevant Requirements on account of restrictions that apply to circulation of such material in certain overseas jurisdictions. However, the Companies Act, 2013 requires companies to serve documents at any address which may be provided by the members as well as through e-mail. Presently, there is lack of clarity under the Companies Act, 2013 and the rules thereunder with respect to distribution of Issue Material in overseas jurisdictions where such distribution may be prohibited under the applicable laws of such jurisdiction.

61. Any future issuance of the Equity Shares by us or sales of the Equity Shares by any of our significant Shareholders may adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares. Further, holders of Equity Shares could be restricted in their ability to exercise pre-emptive rights under Indian law and could thereby suffer future dilution of their percentage ownership of the outstanding Equity Shares.

A company incorporated in India must offer its holders of equity shares pre-emptive rights to subscribe to and pay for a proportionate number of shares to maintain their existing ownership percentages prior to the issuance of any new equity shares, unless these rights have been waived by resolution passed by members who, being entitled so to do, vote in person or by proxy or by postal ballot, are required to be not less than three times the number of the votes, if any, cast against the resolution by members so entitled and voting. If our Company offers its Shareholders rights to subscribe for additional Equity Shares or any right of any other nature, our Company will have discretion as to the procedure to be followed in making the rights available to our Shareholders or in disposing of the rights for the benefit of our Shareholders and making the net proceeds available to the Shareholders. Our Company may choose not to offer the rights to our Shareholders having an address outside India. For example, our Company will not offer such rights to our Shareholders in the United States unless a registration statement is in effect (if a registration statement under the U.S. Securities Act is required for us to offer such rights to holders and sell the securities represented by such rights) or if the offering and sale of such rights or the underlying securities to such holders are exempt from registration under the provisions of the U.S. Securities Act.

There is no restriction on our ability to issue Equity Shares or our major Shareholders’ ability to dispose of their Equity Shares, and we cannot assure you that we will not issue Equity Shares or that any major Shareholder will not dispose of, encumber, or pledge, its Equity Shares. Future issuances of Equity Shares may dilute your shareholding and may adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares. Such securities may also be issued at prices below the then current trading price of the Equity Shares. Sales of Equity Shares by our major Shareholders may also adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares. We have also issued employee stock options to certain of our employees. To the extent such outstanding employee stock options are exercised, there will be further dilution to investors in the Issue, which may also adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares. We have also issued OCDs to lenders, and in case the lenders exercise their option to convert the OCDs into equity shares, there will be further dilution to investors, which may also adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares.

62. The Rights Equity Shares may experience price and volume fluctuations.

The market price of the Rights Equity Shares can be volatile as a result of several factors beyond our control, including volatility in the Indian and global securities markets, our results of operations, the performance of our competitors, developments in the Indian finance and lending sector, changing perceptions in the market about investments in this sector in India, investor perceptions of our future performance, adverse media reports about us or our sector, changes in the estimates of our performance or recommendations by financial analysts, significant developments in India's economic liberalization and deregulation policies, and significant developments in India's fiscal regulations. In addition, the stock exchanges may experience significant price and volume fluctuations, which may have a material adverse effect on the market price of the Rights Equity Shares.

General or industry specific market conditions or stock performance or domestic or international macroeconomic and geopolitical factors unrelated to our performance also affect the price of the Rights Equity Shares. In particular, the stock market as a whole recently experienced extreme price and volume fluctuations that have affected the market price of many companies in ways that may have been unrelated to the companies' operating performances. For these reasons, investors should not rely on recent trends to predict future share prices, results of operations or cash flow and financial condition.

63. No market for the Rights Entitlements may develop and the price of the Rights Entitlements may be volatile.

No assurance can be given that an active trading market for the Rights Entitlements will develop on the Stock Exchanges during the Renunciation Period or that there will be sufficient liquidity in Rights Entitlements trading during this period. The trading price of the Rights Entitlements will not only depend on supply and demand for the Rights Entitlements, which may be affected by factors unrelated to the trading in the Equity Shares, but also on the quoted price of the Equity Shares, amongst others. Factors affecting the volatility of the price of the Equity Shares, as described herein, may magnify the volatility of the trading price of the Rights Entitlements, and a decline in the price of the Equity Shares will have an adverse impact on the trading price of the Rights Entitlements. Since the trading of the Rights Equity Shares will be on a separate segment compared to the Equity Shares on the floor of the Stock Exchanges, the trading of Rights Equity Shares may not track the trading of Equity Shares.

64. Rights of shareholders under Indian law may differ or may be more limited than under the laws of other jurisdictions.

The Companies Act and rules made thereunder, the rules and regulations issued by SEBI and other regulatory authorities, the Memorandum of Association, and the Articles of Association govern the corporate affairs of our Company. Indian legal principles relating to these matters and the validity of corporate procedures, directors' fiduciary duties and liabilities, and shareholders' rights may differ from those that would apply to a company in another jurisdiction. In accordance with the provisions of the Companies Act the voting rights of an equity shareholder in a company shall be in proportion to the share of a person in the paid-up equity share capital of that company. Further, Section 106(1) of the Companies Act read with the Articles of Association specifically provides that no member shall exercise any voting right in respect of any shares registered in his name on which any calls or other sums presently payable by him have not been paid.

65. You may be subject to Indian taxes arising out of capital gains on the sale of the Rights Equity Shares.

Under the current Indian tax laws and regulations, unless specifically exempted, capital gains arising from the sale of equity shares in an Indian company are generally taxable in India. Additionally, a securities transaction tax (“STT”) is levied both at the time of transfer and acquisition of the equity shares (unless exempted under a prescribed notification), and the STT is collected by an Indian stock exchange on which equity shares are sold. Any capital gain realized on the sale of listed equity shares on the stock exchanges held for more than 12 months immediately preceding the date of transfer will be subject to long term capital gains tax in India. Such long-term capital gains exceeding ₹125,000 arising from the sale of listed equity shares on the stock exchange are subject to tax at the rate of 12.50% (plus applicable surcharge and cess). This beneficial provision is, inter alia, subject to payment of STT. Further, any capital gains realised on the sale of listed equity shares of an Indian company, held for more than 12 months, which are sold using any platform other than a recognized stock exchange and on which no STT has been paid, will be subject to long-term capital gains tax in India at the rate of 12.50% (plus applicable surcharge and cess), and any capital gains realized on the sale of listed equity shares held for a period of 12 months or less immediately preceding the date of transfer will be subject to short term capital gains tax in India at the rate of 20.00% (plus applicable surcharge and cess), in each case subject to STT being paid. Otherwise, such gains will be taxed at the applicable rates.

Generally, Indian tax treaties do not limit India’s ability to impose tax on capital gains. As a result, residents of other countries may be liable for tax in India as well as in their own jurisdiction on a gain upon the sale of the Rights Equity Shares. Investors are advised to consult their own tax advisors and to carefully consider the potential tax consequences of owning, investing or trading in the Rights Equity Shares.

66. Except for an investor in India, an investor’s ability to acquire Rights Entitlements and Rights Equity Shares is restricted by the distribution and solicitation restrictions set forth in this Letter of Offer. In addition, the Rights Equity Shares are subject to restrictions on transferability and resale.

No actions have been taken or will be taken to permit a public offering of the Rights Entitlements and Rights Equity Shares in any jurisdiction except India. The ability of an investor outside India to acquire Rights Equity Shares is restricted by the distribution and solicitation restrictions set forth in this Letter of Offer. Furthermore, the Rights Entitlements and the Rights Equity Shares are subject to restrictions on transferability and resale. For details, see “Restrictions on Purchases and Resales” on page 154. Investors are required to inform themselves about and observe these restrictions.

67. The Equity Shares of our Company are listed on BSE and NSE. Therefore, our Company is subject to certain obligations and reporting requirements under the SEBI Listing Regulations. Any non-compliance or delay in complying with such obligations and reporting requirements may render us liable to prosecution and/or penalties.

The Equity Shares of our Company are listed on the BSE and NSE. We are, therefore, subject to the obligations and reporting requirements prescribed under the SEBI Listing Regulations, and we must comply with other SEBI regulations as may be applicable to us. While our Company strives to meet all such obligations and reporting requirements, we cannot assure you that there will be no non-compliances in the future, and we cannot assure you that no penalties will be levied against our Company. Non-compliance under the SEBI regulations are usually subject to penalties, warnings, and show-cause notices by SEBI and the Stock Exchanges. Any regulatory action or development that is initiated against us could affect our business reputation, divert management attention and result in a material adverse effect on our business prospects and financial performance, and the trading price of the Equity Shares.

68. Investors will be subject to market risks until our Equity Shares credited to the investor's demat account are listed and permitted to trade.

Investors can start trading the Rights Equity Shares Allotted to them only after they have been credited to an investor's demat account, are listed and permitted to trade. Since our Equity Shares are currently traded on the Stock Exchanges, investors will be subject to market risk from the date they pay for the Rights Equity Shares to the date when trading approval is granted for the same. Further, there can be no assurance that the Rights Equity Shares allocated to an investor will be credited to the investor's demat account or that trading in such Equity Shares will commence in a timely manner.

69. Investors may be restricted in their ability to exercise pre-emptive rights under Indian law and thereby may suffer future dilution of their ownership position.

A company incorporated in India must offer its holders of equity shares pre-emptive rights to subscribe to and pay for a proportionate number of shares to maintain their existing ownership percentages prior to the issuance of any new equity shares, unless these rights have been waived by resolution passed by members who, being entitled so to do, vote in person or by proxy or by postal ballot, are required to be not less than three times the number of the votes, if any, cast against the resolution by members so entitled and voting. If our Company offers its Shareholders rights to subscribe for additional Equity Shares or any right of any other nature, our Company will have discretion as to the procedure to be followed in making the rights available to our Shareholders or in disposing of the rights for the benefit of our Shareholders and making the net proceeds available to the Shareholders.

Our Company may choose not to offer the rights to our Shareholders having an address outside India. For example, our Company will not offer such rights to our Shareholders in the United States unless a registration statement is in effect (if a registration statement under the U.S. Securities Act is required for us to offer such rights to holders and sell the securities represented by such rights) or if the offering and sale of such rights or the underlying securities to such holders are exempt from registration under the provisions of the U.S. Securities Act.

EXTERNAL RISKS FACTORS

70. Our business is affected by prevailing economic, political and other prevailing conditions in India and the markets we currently service.

Our results of operations and financial condition depend significantly on prevailing economic conditions in India and our results of operations are affected by factors influencing the Indian economy. Various factors may lead to a slowdown in India, which in turn may adversely impact our business, prospects, financial performance and operations. In the past, the Indian economy has been affected by global economic uncertainties, liquidity crisis, domestic policies, global political environment, volatility in interest rates, currency exchange rates, commodity and electricity prices, volatility in inflation rates and various other factors. Accordingly, high rates of inflation in India could increase our employee costs and decrease our operating margins, which could have an adverse effect on our results of operations. Any slowdown in the economy of the markets in which we operate may adversely affect, our business and financial performance of our business and operation.

71. A downgrade in ratings of India, may affect the trading price of the Equity Shares.

There could be a downgrade of India's sovereign debt rating due to various factors, including changes in tax or fiscal policy, or a decline in India's foreign exchange reserves, which are outside our control. Any adverse revisions to India's credit ratings for domestic and international debt by domestic or international rating agencies may adversely impact our ability to raise additional financing, and the interest rates and other commercial terms at which such additional financing is available. Although economic conditions are different in each country, investors' reactions to developments in one country can have adverse effects on the securities of companies in other countries, including India, which may cause fluctuations in the prices of our Equity Shares. This could have an adverse effect on our business and financial performance, and ability to obtain financing for expenditures.

72. We may be subject to pre-emptive surveillance measures like Additional Surveillance Measure (ASM) and Graded Surveillance Measures (GSM) by the Stock Exchanges which may adversely affect trading price of our Equity Shares.

On listing, we may be subject to general market conditions which may include significant price and volume fluctuations. The price of our Equity Shares may also fluctuate after the Offer due to several factors such as volatility in the Indian and global securities market, our profitability and performance, performance of our competitors, changes in the estimates of our performance or any other political or economic factor. The occurrence of any of the abovementioned factors may lead to us triggering the parameters specified by SEBI and the Stock Exchanges for placing securities under the GSM or ASM framework such as net worth and net fixed assets of securities, high low variation in securities, client concentration and close to close price variation. In the event our Equity Shares are covered under such surveillance measures implemented by SEBI and the Stock Exchanges, we may be subject to certain additional restrictions in relation to trading of our Equity Shares such as limiting trading frequency (for example, trading either allowed once in a week or a month) or freezing of price on upper side of trading which may have an adverse effect on the market price of our Equity Shares or may in general cause disruptions in the development of an active market for and trading of our Equity Shares.

73. Changing laws, rules and regulations and legal uncertainties, including adverse application of tax laws and regulations, such as application of GST, may adversely affect our business results of operations, cash flows and financial performance.

Changes in the operating environment, including changes in tax law, could impact the determination of our tax liabilities for any given tax year. Taxes and other levies imposed by the Government of India that affect our industry include income tax, goods and services tax, value added tax and other taxes, duties or surcharges introduced from time to time. The tax scheme in India is extensive and subject to change from time to time. For instance, as of July 1, 2017, GST in India replaced taxes levied by central and state governments with a unified tax regime in respect of the supply of goods and services in India. Any adverse changes in any of the taxes levied by the Government of India may adversely affect our competitive position and profitability. We cannot assure you that the Government of India may not implement new regulations and policies which will require us to obtain approvals and licenses from the Government of India and other regulatory bodies or impose onerous requirements and conditions on our operations. Any such changes and the related uncertainties with respect to the applicability, interpretation and implementation of any amendment to, or change to governing laws, regulation or policy in the countries in which we operate may materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition. In addition, we may have to incur expenditure to comply with the requirements of any new regulations, which may also materially harm our results of operations. We are also subject to these risks in all our overseas operations depending on each specific country. Any unfavorable changes to the laws and regulations applicable to us could also subject us to additional liabilities. As a result, any such changes or interpretations may adversely affect our business, financial condition and financial performance. Further, changes in capital gains tax or tax on capital market transactions or sale of shares may affect investor returns.

74. If there is any change in laws or regulations, including tax laws, or their interpretation, such changes may significantly affect our financial statements.

Any change in India tax laws could have an effect on our operations. It may affect our ability to claim exemptions that we have historically benefited from, and such exemptions may no longer be available to us. We cannot predict whether any new tax laws or regulations impacting our services will be enacted, the likely nature and impact of the specific terms of any such laws or regulations or whether, if at all, any laws or regulations would have an adverse effect on our business.

75. Natural disasters, fires, epidemics, pandemics, acts of war, terrorist attacks, civil unrest and other events could materially and adversely affect our business.

Natural disasters (such as typhoons, flooding and earthquakes), epidemics, pandemics such as COVID-19, acts of war, terrorist attacks and other force majeure events, many of which are beyond our control, may lead to economic instability, including in India or in other jurisdictions where we operate, which may in turn materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. Our operations may be adversely affected by fires, natural disasters and/or severe weather, which can result in damage to our property or inventory and generally reduce our productivity and may also require us to evacuate personnel and suspend operations. Any terrorist attacks, civil unrest and other acts of violence or war may adversely affect the Indian securities markets. Such incidents could also create a greater perception that investment in Indian companies involves a higher degree of risk and could have an adverse effect on our business and the price of the Equity Shares.

76. Financial instability in other countries may cause increased volatility in Indian financial markets causing a limitation on our ability to raise capital through debt, equity or other financial instruments from Indian / International capital markets.

The Indian market and the Indian economy are influenced by economic and market conditions in other countries, including conditions in the United States, Europe and certain emerging economies in Asia. Financial turmoil in Asia, Russia and elsewhere in the world in recent years has adversely affected the Indian economy. Any worldwide financial instability may cause increased volatility in the Indian financial markets and, directly or indirectly, adversely affect the Indian economy and financial sector and in turn limit our ability to raise capital through debt, equity or other financial instruments from Indian / International capital markets.

Although economic conditions vary across markets, loss of investor confidence in one emerging economy may cause increased volatility across other economies, including India. Financial instability in other parts of the world could have a global influence and thereby negatively affect the Indian economy. Financial disruptions and economic developments globally could materially and adversely affect our business, prospects, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows. Concerns related to a trade war between large economies may lead to increased risk aversion and volatility in global capital markets and consequently have an impact on the Indian economy.

77. We have in the past entered related party transactions and may continue to do so in the future, which may potentially involve conflicts of interest with the equity shareholders.

We have entered transactions with related parties in the past and from, time to time, we may enter into related party transactions in the future. These transactions principally include remuneration to our Directors and Key Managerial Personnel. While we believe that all such transactions have been conducted on an arm's length basis and are in compliance with the relevant provisions of Companies Act and any other applicable laws and regulations as amended, we cannot assure you that we might not have obtained more favourable terms had such transactions been entered into with unrelated parties.

While we shall endeavour to conduct all related party transactions post listing of the Equity Shares subject to the Board's or Shareholders' approval, as applicable, and in compliance with the applicable accounting standards, provisions of Companies Act, 2013, as amended, provisions of the SEBI Listing Regulations and other applicable law, such related party transactions may potentially involve conflicts of interest. While our Company will endeavour to duly address such conflicts of interest as and when they may arise, we cannot assure you that these arrangements in the future, or any future related party transactions that we may enter into, individually or in the aggregate, will not have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, cash flows and prospects or may potentially involve any conflict of interest.

78. Failures in internal control systems could cause operational errors which may have an adverse impact on our profitability.

We are responsible for establishing and maintaining adequate internal measures commensurate with the size and complexity of operations. Internal control systems comprising policies and procedures are designed to ensure sound management of our operations, safekeeping of its assets, optimal utilization of resources, reliability of its financial information and compliance. The systems and procedures are periodically reviewed and routinely tested and cover all functions and business areas. We take reasonable steps to maintain appropriate procedures for compliance and disclosure and to maintain effective internal controls over our financial reporting so that we produce reliable financial reports and prevent financial fraud. For instance, we review our financials on a monthly basis and any unauthorized, incomplete and inaccurate financial statements are reported to the Board of Directors. Maintaining such internal controls require human diligence and compliance and is therefore subject to lapses in judgment and failures that result from human error.

While we believe that we have adequate controls, we are exposed to operational risks arising from the potential inadequacy or failure of internal processes or systems, and our actions may not be sufficient to guarantee effective internal controls in all circumstances. Given the size of our operations, it is possible that errors may repeat or compound before they are discovered and rectified. Our management information systems and internal control procedures that are designed to monitor our operations and overall compliance may not identify every instance of non-compliance or every suspicious transaction. While there have not been any instances of non-adherence with internal controls in the past three Fiscals, there can be no assurance that deficiencies in our internal controls will not arise in the future, or that we will be able to implement, and continue to maintain, adequate measures to rectify or mitigate any such deficiencies in our internal controls.

79. Rights of shareholders under Indian laws may be more limited than under the laws of other jurisdictions, due to which they may have difficulty in asserting their rights as a shareholder.

Indian legal principles related to corporate procedures, directors' fiduciary duties and liabilities may differ from those that would apply to a company in another jurisdiction. Investors may have difficulty in asserting their rights as shareholders in an Indian company than as shareholder of a corporation in another jurisdiction. Shareholders' rights under Indian law may not be as extensive as shareholders' rights under the laws of other jurisdictions. Under the Companies Act, prior to issuance of any new equity shares, a public limited company incorporated under Indian law must offer its equity shareholders pre-emptive rights to subscribe to a proportionate number of equity shares to maintain existing ownership, unless such pre-emptive rights are waived by a special resolution by a three-fourths majority of the equity shareholders voting on such resolution. If you are a foreign investor and the law of the foreign jurisdiction that you are in does not permit the exercise of such pre-emptive rights without our filing an offering document or registration statement with the applicable authority in such foreign jurisdiction, you will be unable to exercise such pre-emptive rights, unless we make such a filing. If we elect not to file an offering document or a registration statement, the new securities may be issued to a custodian, who may sell the securities for your benefit. The value such custodian receives on the sale of any such securities and the related transaction costs cannot be predicted. To the extent that you are unable to exercise pre-emptive rights granted in respect of our Equity Shares, your proportional interest in our Company would decline.

80. Taxes and other levies imposed by the Government of India or other State Governments, as well as other financial policies and regulations, may have a material adverse impact on our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

Taxes and other levies imposed by the Central or State Governments in India that impact our industry include customs duties, excise duties, sales tax, income tax and other taxes, duties or surcharges introduced on a permanent or temporary basis from time to time. There can be no assurance that these tax rates/slab will continue in the future. Further, with the introduction of the Goods and Services Act, tax rates and its implication may have material impact on our products. Any changes in these tax rates/slabs could adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

81. Investors may be subject to Indian taxes arising out of income arising on the sale of the Equity Shares.

Under current Indian tax laws, unless specifically exempted, capital gains arising from the sale of equity shares held as investments in an Indian company are generally taxable in India. Any capital gain realized on the sale of listed equity shares on a Stock Exchange held for more than 12 months immediately preceding the date of transfer will be subject to long term capital gains in India at the specified rates depending on certain factors, such as whether the sale is undertaken on or off the Stock Exchanges, the quantum of gains and any available treaty relief. Accordingly, you may be subject to payment of long term capital gains tax in India, in addition to payment of Securities Transaction Tax ("STT"), on the sale of any Equity Shares held for more than 12 months immediately preceding the date of transfer. STT will be levied on and collected by a domestic stock exchange on which the Equity Shares are sold. Further, any capital gains realized on the sale of listed equity shares held for a period of 12 months or less immediately preceding the date of transfer will be subject to short term capital gains tax in India as well as STT.

Capital gains arising from the sale of the Equity Shares will not be chargeable to tax in India in cases where relief from such taxation in India is provided under a treaty between India and the country of which the seller is resident read with the Multilateral Instrument ("MLI"), if and to the extent applicable, and the seller is entitled to avail benefits thereunder. Generally, Indian tax treaties do not limit India's ability to impose tax on capital gains. As a result, residents of other countries may be liable for tax in India as well as in their own jurisdiction on a gain upon the sale of the Equity Shares.

No dividend distribution tax is required to be paid in respect of dividends declared, distributed or paid by a domestic company after March 31, 2020, and accordingly, such dividends would not be exempt in the hands of the shareholders, both resident as well as non-resident. Our Company may or may not grant the benefit of a tax treaty (where applicable) to a non-resident shareholder for the purposes of deducting tax at source pursuant to any corporate action including dividends.

Our Company cannot predict whether any tax laws or other regulations impacting it will be enacted or predict the nature and impact of any such laws or regulations or whether, if at all, any laws or regulations would have a material adverse effect on our Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

82. Foreign investors are subject to foreign investment restrictions under Indian law that limits our ability to attract foreign investors, which may adversely impact the market price of the Equity Shares.

Under the foreign exchange regulations currently in force in India, transfer of shares between non-residents and residents are freely permitted (subject to certain exceptions) if they comply with the pricing guidelines and reporting requirements specified by the RBI. If the transfer of shares, which are sought to be transferred, is not in compliance with such pricing guidelines or reporting requirements or fall under any of the exceptions referred to above, then the prior approval of the RBI will be required. Additionally, shareholders who seek to convert the Rupee proceeds from a sale of shares in India into foreign currency and repatriate that foreign currency from India will require a no objection/ tax clearance certificate from the income tax authority. There can be no assurance that any approval required from the RBI or any other government agency can be obtained on any particular terms or at all.

83. A third party could be prevented from acquiring control of our Company because of anti-takeover provisions under Indian law.

There are provisions in Indian law that may delay, deter or prevent a future takeover or change in control of our Company, even if a change in control would result in the purchase of your Equity Shares at a premium to the market price or would otherwise be beneficial to you. Such provisions may discourage or prevent certain types of transactions involving our actual or threatened change in control. Under the Takeover Regulations in India, an acquirer has been defined as any person who, directly or indirectly, acquires or agrees to acquire shares or voting rights or control over a company, whether individually or acting in concert with others. Although, these provisions have been formulated to ensure that interests of investors/shareholders are protected, these provisions may also discourage a third party from attempting to take control of our Company. Consequently, even if a potential takeover of our Company would result in the purchase of the Equity Shares at a premium to their market price or would otherwise be beneficial to its stakeholders, it is possible that such a takeover would not be attempted or consummated because of the Indian Takeover Regulations.

84. We may require further equity issuance, which will lead to dilution of equity and may affect the market price of our Equity Shares or seek additional funds through incurring debt to satisfy our capital needs, which we may not be able to procure.

Our growth is dependent on having a balance sheet to support our activities. In addition to the Issue Proceeds and our internally generated cash flow, we may need other sources of financing to meet our capital needs, which may include entering into new debt facilities with lending institutions or raising additional equity in the capital markets. We may need to raise additional capital from time to time, depending on business conditions. The factors that would require us to raise additional capital could be business growth beyond what the current balance sheet can sustain; additional capital requirements imposed due to changes in regulatory regime or significant depletion in our existing capital base due to unusual operating losses. Any fresh issue of shares or convertible securities would dilute existing holders, and such issuance may not be done at terms and conditions, which are favourable to the existing shareholders of our Company. If our Company decides to raise additional funds through the incurrence of debt, our interest obligations will increase, and we may be subject to additional covenants, which could further limit our ability to access cash flows from our operations. Such financings could cause our debt-to-equity ratio to increase or require us to create charges or liens on our assets in favour of lenders. We cannot assure you that we will be able to secure adequate financing in the future on acceptable terms, in time, or at all. Our failure to obtain sufficient financing could result in the delay or abandonment of our expansion plans. Our business and future results of operations may be affected if we are unable to implement our expansion strategy.

Any future issuance of Equity Shares by our Company may dilute your shareholding and hence affect the trading price of our Equity Shares and our ability to raise capital through an issue of its securities. In addition, any perception by investors that such issuances or sales might occur could also affect the trading price of our Equity Shares. Additionally, the disposal, pledge or encumbrance of Equity Shares by any of our Company's major shareholders, or the perception that such transactions may occur may affect the trading price of the Equity Shares. No assurance may be given that our Company will not issue Equity Shares or that such shareholders will not dispose of, pledge or encumber their Equity Shares in the future.

85. Political, economic, regulatory or other factors that are beyond our control may have an adverse effect on our business and results of operations.

The Indian economy and its securities markets are influenced by economic developments and volatility in securities markets in other countries. Investors' reactions to developments in one country may have adverse effects on the market price of securities of companies located elsewhere, including India. Adverse economic developments, such as rising fiscal or trade deficit, in other emerging market countries may also affect investor confidence and cause increased volatility in Indian securities markets and indirectly affect the Indian economy in general. Any of these factors could depress economic activity and restrict our access to capital, which could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations and reduce the price of our Equity Shares. Any financial disruption could have an adverse effect on our business, future financial performance, shareholders' equity and the price of our Equity Shares.

We are dependent on domestic, regional and global economic and market conditions. Our performance, growth and market price of our Equity Shares are and will be dependent to a large extent on the health of the economy in which we operate. There have been periods of slowdown in the economic growth of India. Demand for our products may be adversely affected by an economic downturn in domestic, regional and global economies. Economic growth in India is also affected by various factors including domestic consumption and savings, balance of trade movements, namely export demand and movements in key imports, global economic uncertainty and liquidity crisis, volatility in exchange currency rates, and annual rainfall which affects agricultural production. Consequently, any future slowdown in the Indian economy could harm our business, results of operations and financial condition. Also, a change in the government or a change in the economic and deregulation policies could adversely affect economic conditions prevalent in the areas in which we operate in general and our business in particular and high rates of inflation in India could increase our costs without proportionately increasing our revenues, and as such decrease our operating margins.

86. Global economic, political and social conditions may harm our ability to do business, increase our costs and negatively affect our stock price.

Global economic and political factors that are beyond our control, influence forecasts and directly affect performance. These factors include interest rates, rates of economic growth, fiscal and monetary policies of governments, change in regulatory framework, inflation, deflation, foreign exchange fluctuations, consumer credit availability, consumer debt levels, unemployment trends, terrorist threats and activities, worldwide military and domestic disturbances and conflicts, and other matters that influence consumer confidence, spending and tourism.

OTHER RISKS

87. If there is any change in laws or regulations, including taxation laws, or their interpretation, such changes may significantly affect our financial statements.

Any change in Indian tax laws could have an effect on our operations. For instance, the Taxation Laws (Amendment) Act, 2019, prescribes certain changes to the income tax rate applicable to companies in India. According to this Act, companies can henceforth voluntarily opt in favor of a concessional tax regime (subject to no other special benefits/exemptions being claimed), which would ultimately reduce the tax rate (on gross basis) for Indian companies from 30% to 22% (exclusive of applicable health and education cess and surcharge).

The Finance Act, 2024 (“Finance Act”), has, amongst others things, provided a number of amendments to the direct and indirect tax regime, including, without limitation, a simplified alternate direct tax regime. For instance, dividend distribution tax (“DDT”) will not be payable in respect of dividends declared, distributed or paid by a domestic company after March 31, 2020, and accordingly, such dividends would not be exempt in the hands of the shareholders, both resident as well as non-resident and are likely be subject to tax deduction at source. Our Company may or may not grant the benefit of a tax treaty (where applicable) to a non-resident shareholder for the purposes of deducting tax at source from such dividend. Investors should consult their own tax advisors about the consequences of investing or trading in the Equity Shares.

In addition, we are subject to tax related inquiries and claims. We may be particularly affected by claims from tax authorities on account of income tax assessment, service tax and GST that combines taxes and levies by the central and state governments into one unified rate of interest with effect from July 1, 2017 and all subsequent changes and amendments thereto.

We cannot predict whether any new tax laws or regulations impacting our services will be enacted, the likely nature and impact of the specific terms of any such laws or regulations or whether, if at all, any laws or regulations would have an adverse effect on our business.

88. If inflation were to rise in India, we might not be able to increase the prices of our products at a proportionate rate in order to pass costs on to our customers thereby reducing our margins.

Inflation rates in India have been volatile in recent years, and such volatility may continue in the future. India has experienced high inflation in the recent past. Increased inflation can contribute to an increase in interest rates and increased costs to our business, including increased costs of transportation, wages, components and other expenses relevant to our business. Further, a rise in inflation in other countries, such as in the United States of America or United Kingdom, may lead to an increase in the interest rates in India and depreciation in the value of the Rupee which in turn make the components imported by our Company costlier.

Further, the Government of India has previously initiated economic measures to combat high inflation rates, and it is unclear whether these measures will remain in effect. There can be no assurance that Indian inflation levels will not worsen in the future.

In recent months, consumer and wholesale prices in India have exhibited increased inflationary trends, as a result of an increase in crude oil prices, higher international commodity prices, and higher domestic consumer and supplier prices. The RBI has enacted certain policy measures and has recently increased the repo rates to curb inflation. However, these policies and steps taken by the RBI may not be successful. In February 2022, hostilities between Russia and Ukraine commenced. The market price of oil has risen sharply since the commencement of these hostilities which may have an inflationary effect in India. High fluctuations in inflation rates may make it more difficult for us to accurately estimate or control our costs. Any increase in inflation in India can increase our expenses, which we may not be able to adequately pass on to our customers, whether entirely or in part, and may adversely affect our business and financial condition. In particular, we might not be able to control the increase in our expenses related to salaries or wages payable to our employees, reduce our costs or increase the price of our products to pass the increase in costs on to our customers. In such case, our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition may be adversely affected.

89. Investors may not be able to enforce a judgment of a foreign court against us.

Our Company is a company incorporated under the laws of India. All of our Company's Directors and officers are residents of India and a substantial portion of our assets and such persons are located in India. As a result, it may not be possible for investors to effect service of process upon our Company or such persons in jurisdictions outside India, or to enforce judgments obtained against such parties outside India. Furthermore, it is unlikely that an Indian court would enforce foreign judgments if that court was of the view that the amount of damages awarded was excessive or inconsistent with public policy, or if judgments are in breach or contrary to Indian law. In addition, a party seeking to enforce a foreign judgment in India is required to obtain approval from the RBI to execute such a judgment or to repatriate outside India any amounts recovered.

Recognition and enforcement of foreign judgments is provided for under Section 13 and Section 44A of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 ("CPC"). India has reciprocal recognition and enforcement of judgments in civil and commercial matters with only a limited number of jurisdictions, such as the United Kingdom, Singapore and Hong Kong. In order to be enforceable, a judgment from a jurisdiction with reciprocity must meet certain requirements established in the CPC. The CPC only permits the enforcement and execution of monetary decrees in the reciprocating jurisdiction, not being in the nature of any amounts payable in respect of taxes, other charges, fines or penalties. Judgments or decrees from jurisdictions which do not have reciprocal recognition with India, including the United States, cannot be enforced by proceedings in execution in India. Therefore, a final judgment for the payment of money rendered by any court in a non-reciprocating territory for civil liability, whether or not predicated solely upon the general laws of the non-reciprocating territory, would not be directly enforceable in India. The party in whose favor a final foreign judgment in a non-reciprocating territory is rendered may bring a fresh suit in a competent court in India based on the final judgment within three years of obtaining such final judgment. However, it is unlikely that a court in India would award damages on the same basis as a foreign court if an action were brought in India or that an Indian court would enforce foreign judgments if it viewed the amount of damages as excessive or inconsistent with the public policy in India.

RESTRICTIONS ON FOREIGN OWNERSHIP OF INDIAN SECURITIES

There are two routes through which foreign investors may invest in India. One is the “automatic route”, where no government approval is required under Indian foreign exchange laws to make an investment as long as it is within prescribed thresholds for the relevant sector. The other route is the “government route”, where an approval is required under foreign exchange laws from the relevant industry regulator, prior to the investment.

Foreign investment in Indian securities is regulated through the Industrial Policy, 1991, of the Government of India and FEMA. While the Industrial Policy, 1991, of the Government of India, prescribes the limits and the conditions subject to which foreign investment can be made in different sectors of the Indian economy, FEMA regulates the precise way such investment may be made. The Union Cabinet, as provided in the Cabinet Press Release dated May 24, 2017, has given its approval for phasing out the FIPB. Under the Industrial Policy, 1991, unless specifically restricted, foreign investment is freely permitted in all sectors of the Indian economy up to any extent and without any prior approvals, but the foreign investor is required to follow certain prescribed procedures for making such investment. Accordingly, the process for foreign direct investment and approval from the Government of India will now be handled by the concerned ministries or departments, in consultation with the Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade, Ministry of Commerce and Industry, Government of India (formerly known as the Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion), Ministry of Finance, Department of Economic Affairs, FIPB section, through a memorandum dated June 5, 2017, has notified the specific ministries handling relevant sectors.

The Government has, from time to time, made policy pronouncements on FDI through press notes and press releases. The DPIIT issued the consolidated FDI Policy Circular of 2020 (‘FDI Circular 2020’), which, with effect from October 15, 2020, consolidated and superseded all previous press notes, press releases and clarifications on FDI issued by the DPIIT that were in force and effect as on October 15, 2020. The Government proposes to update the consolidated circular on FDI policy once every year and therefore, FDI Circular 2020 will be valid until the DPIIT issues an updated circular.

The Government of India has from time to time made policy pronouncements on FDI through press notes and press releases which are notified by RBI as amendments to FEMA. In case of any conflict, the relevant notification under Foreign Exchange Management (Non-Debt Instruments) Rules, 2019 will prevail. The payment of inward remittance and reporting requirements are stipulated under the Foreign Exchange Management (Mode of Payment and Reporting of Non-Debt Instruments) Regulations, 2019 issued by RBI. The FDI Circular 2020, issued by the DPIIT, consolidates the policy framework in place as on October 15, 2020, and supersedes all previous press notes, press releases and clarifications on FDI issued by the DPIIT that were in force and effect as on October 15, 2020.

The transfer of shares between an Indian resident and a non-resident does not require the prior approval of RBI, provided that:

1. The activities of the investee company falls under the automatic route as provided in the FDI Policy and FEMA and transfer does not attract the provisions of the SEBI (SAST) Regulations;

2. The non- resident shareholding is within the sectoral limits under the FDI Policy; and
3. The pricing is in accordance with the guidelines prescribed by SEBI and RBI.

No investment under the FDI route (i.e., any investment which would result in the investor holding 10% or more of the fully diluted paid-up equity share capital of the Company or any FDI investment for which an approval from the government was taken in the past) will be allowed in the Issue unless such application is accompanied with necessary approval or covered under a pre-existing approval from the government. It will be the sole responsibility of the investors to ensure that the necessary approval or the pre-existing approval from the government is valid to make any investment in the Issue. Our Company will not be responsible for any allotments made by relying on such approvals.

Please also note that pursuant to Circular no. 14 dated September 16, 2003, issued by RBI, Overseas Corporate Bodies have been derecognized as an eligible class of investors and RBI has subsequently issued the Foreign Exchange Management (Withdrawal of General Permission to Overseas Corporate Bodies (OCBs)) Regulations, 2003. Any Investor being an OCB is required not to be under the adverse notice of RBI and in order to apply for this issue as an incorporated non-resident must do so in accordance with the FDI Circular 2020 and Foreign Exchange Management (Non-Debt Instrument) Rules, 2019. Further, while investing in the Issue, the Investors are deemed to have obtained the necessary approvals, as required, under applicable laws and the obligation to obtain such approvals shall be upon the Investors. Our Company shall not be under an obligation to obtain any approval under any of the applicable laws on behalf of the Investors and shall not be liable in case of failure on part of the Investors to obtain such approvals.

The above information is given for the benefit of the Applicants / Investors. Our Company is not liable for any amendments or modification or changes in applicable laws or regulations, which may occur after the date of the Letter of Offer. Investors are advised to make their independent investigations and ensure that the number of Equity Shares applied for do not exceed the applicable limits under laws or regulations.
